Plaintiff, a prisoner at the California Training Facility in Soledad, has filed a pro se civil rights complaint under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 seeking time credit restoration for grooming standard violations he received in 1998. Plaintiff also seeks damages on the ground that the disciplinary violations for his wearing a beard pursuant to his religion, and the detrimental consequences therefrom, violated his First and Fourteenth Amendment rights, as well as The Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act (RLUIPA), 42 U.S.C. § 2000cc-1.

DISCUSSION

A. Standard of Review

Federal courts must engage in a preliminary screening of cases in which prisoners seek redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity. 28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a). The court must identify cognizable

1 claims or dismiss the complaint, or any portion of the complaint, if the complaint
2 "is frivolous, malicious, or fails to state a claim upon which relief may be
3 granted," or "seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such 4 relief." Id. § 1915A(b). Pro se pleadings must be liberally construed, however.
5 Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep't, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1990).

6 To state a claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, a plaintiff must allege two
7 elements: (1) that a right secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States
8 was violated, and (2) that the alleged violation was committed by a person acting 9 under the color of state law. West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988).

10 B. Legal Claims

11 Liberally construed, plaintiff's allegations appear to state cognizable
12 claims for violation of his First and Fourteenth Amendment rights to free exercise
13 of religion and due process/equal protection. See, e.g., Freeman v. Arpaio, 125
14 F.3d 732, 736 (9th Cir. 1997) (prison officials may not burden the practice of 15 prisoner's religion, by preventing him from engaging in conduct mandated by his 16 faith, without any justification reasonably related to legitimate penological 17 interests). They also implicate RLUIPA, which provides: "No government shall 18 impose a substantial burden on the religious exercise of a person residing in or 19 confined to an institution, as defined in section 1997 [which includes state
20 prisons, state psychiatric hospitals, and local jails], even if the burden results
21 from a rule of general applicability, unless the government demonstrates that 22 imposition of the burden on that person (1) is in furtherance of a compelling 23 governmental interest; and (2) is the least restrictive means of furthering that 24 compelling governmental interest." 42 U.S.C. § 2000cc-1(a). The complaint
25 accordingly will be served on the named defendants.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons and for good cause shown,

1. The clerk shall issue summons and the United States Marshal shall serve, without prepayment of fees, copies of the complaint in this matter, all attachments thereto, and copies of this order on the named defendants. The clerk also shall serve a copy of this order on plaintiff.

2. In order to expedite the resolution of this case, the court orders as follows:

a. No later than 90 days from the date of this order, defendants shall file a motion for summary judgment or other dispositive motion. A motion for summary judgment shall be supported by adequate factual documentation and shall conform in all respects to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 56, and shall include as exhibits all records and incident reports stemming from the events at issue. If defendants are of the opinion that this case cannot be resolved by summary judgment or other dispositive motion, they shall so inform the court prior to the date their motion is due. All papers filed with the court shall be served promptly on plaintiff.

b. Plaintiff's opposition to the dispositive motion shall be filed with the court and served upon defendants no later than 30 days after defendants serve plaintiff with the motion.

c. Plaintiff is advised that a motion for summary judgment under Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure will, if granted, end your case. Rule 56 tells you what you must do in order to oppose a motion for summary judgment. Generally, summary judgment must be granted when there is no genuine issue of material fact--that is, if there is no real dispute about any fact that would affect the result of your case, the party who asked for summary

1 judgment is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, which will end your case.
2 When a party you are suing makes a motion for summary judgment that is 3 properly supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony), you cannot simply 4 rely on what your complaint says. Instead, you must set out specific facts in 5 declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or authenticated documents,
6 as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradicts the facts shown in the defendant's
7 declarations and documents and show that there is a genuine issue of material
8 fact for trial. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, summary
9 judgment, if appropriate, may be entered against you. If summary judgment is 10 granted, your case will be dismissed and there will be no trial. Rand v. Rowland, 11 154 F.3d 952, 962-63 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc) (App. A).

12 Plaintiff is also advised that a motion to dismiss for failure to exhaust
13 administrative remedies under 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a) will, if granted, end your 14 case, albeit without prejudice. You must “develop a record” and present it in 15 your opposition in order to dispute any “factual record” presented by the 16 defendants in their motion to dismiss. Wyatt v. Terhune, 315 F.3d 1108, 1120
17 n.14 (9th Cir. 2003).

18 d. Defendants shall file a reply brief within 15 days of the date
19 on which plaintiff serves them with the opposition.

20 e. The motion shall be deemed submitted as of the date the 21 reply brief is due. No hearing will be held on the motion unless the court so 22 orders at a later date.

23 3. Discovery may be taken in accordance with the Federal Rules of 24 Civil Procedure. No further court order is required before the parties may 25 conduct discovery.

1 4. All communications by plaintiff with the court must be served on
2 defendants, or defendants' counsel once counsel has been designated, by mailing
3 a true copy of the document to defendants or defendants' counsel.

4 5. It is plaintiff's responsibility to prosecute this case. Plaintiff must 5 keep the court and all parties informed of any change of address and must comply
6 with the court's orders in a timely fashion. Failure to do so may result in the 7 dismissal of this action under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b).

8 SO ORDERED.

9 DATED: Nov. 14, 2007

CHARLES R. BREYER
United States District Judge
